(54) Título: PAPELERA-DESTRUCTORA DE SEGURIDAD CON PUBLICIDAD ESTÁTICA

(57) Abstract: The invention relates to a waste paper bin/shredder which comprises static advertising and which is safe to use. The invention consists of a housing (1) comprising two receptacles; a shredding receptacle (D) and a container (C). The shredding receptacle (D) comprises: a cover (6) which is provided with an opening (9) through which the documents to be destroyed are inserted; a receiving tray (2) where the paper shredding machine is located; and a protective tray (4) which prevents users from accessing the shredding machine. Once destroyed, documents fall into the aforementioned container (C). A window is disposed between said container and the shredding receptacle and, when the device is being used as a waste paper bin, waste items are introduced through said window. The static advertising is disposed on a plastic sheet (11) which is attached to the cover of the waste paper bin (12). The internal, upper part of the container comprises flanges (18) which can be used to fix a rubbish bag such that it does not project out from the device. In this way, the aesthetic appearance of the assembly is maintained.

(57) Resumen: La papelera-destructora de seguridad con publicidad estática permite destruir documentos introduciéndolos por una embocadura situada en la cubierta del receptáculo de la destructora, que los conduce a la máquina destructora, saliendo los documentos debidamente destruidos por la parte inferior hacia el interior del receptáculo contenedor. Esta constituida a partir de un bastidor que integra
